Introduction

“At Braywood our aspiration is for all children to become confident, emotionally resilient and compassionate individuals who achieve personal success through strength of character and a love of learning”

Braywood recognises the value of providing a wide range of experiences to enrich and extend pupils’ learning and to contribute to their personal development. The Headteacher and Governing Body aims to promote and provide such experiences for the pupils of the school, both as part of a broad and balanced curriculum and as additional optional activities.

However, many of these activities have an associated cost and cannot be provided unless voluntary contributions are received, or parents are charged for the cost. This policy will set out the circumstances in which charges will or will not be made for school activities and when charges may be waived in order to ensure that all pupils have an equal opportunity to benefit from school visits, curricular and extra-curricular activities.

Aims

The policy complies with the requirements of the Education Act 1996. Where ‘parent’ is referred to this will include adults with a responsibility for the pupil.

We aim: -

- To make school activities accessible to all pupils regardless of family income
- To encourage and promote external activities which give added value to the curriculum
- To provide a process which allows activities to take place at a minimum cost to parents, pupils and the school
- To respond to the wide variations in family income while not adding additional unexpected burdens to the school budget.

Legislation

The DfE in its guidance to School Governors states, “education provided during school hours must be free”. The definition of ‘education’ includes materials, equipment and transport provided in school hours by school to carry pupils between the school and an activity.” It goes on to advise that “although schools cannot charge for school time activities, they still invite parents and others to make voluntary contributions (in cash or in kind)” When additional costs are incurred by Braywood School to enhance the curriculum opportunities for the pupils, parents may be requested to make voluntary contributions. However, no pupil will be left out of an activity because his or her parents cannot or will not make a contribution of any kind.

The DfE in its guidance to School Governors states, “Parents can only be charged for activities that happen outside school hours when these activities are not a necessary part of the national curriculum or religious education. No charge can be made for activities that are an essential part of the syllabus for an approved examination. Charges may be made for activities that happen outside school hours if parents agree to pay. The Education Reform Act 1988 described activities, which can be charged for as ‘optional extras’.

Remissions

To ensure that access to activities reflects intentions, Braywood School will implement the following Remissions Policy. The fundamental aim of this policy is to ensure that all pupils gain fully from everything that the school is able to offer them and is based on an understanding of the relationship between low income, entitlement and access. This policy takes into account the very real and persistent difficulties, which people on low income have in meeting the costs of educational activities for their children.

Where parents are in receipt of Income Support, Income Based Jobseekers Allowance, Support under part IV of the Immigration & Asylum Act 1999 or Child Tax Credit (provided that Working Tax Credit is not also received), the Governing Body will observe its statutory requirement to remit in full the cost of board and lodgings for any residential activity that the school organised for the pupil if the activity is deemed to take place within school hours. There may be cases of family hardship, which make it difficult for pupils to take part in other particular activities for which a charge is made. When arranging a chargeable activity, the Governing Body will invite parents to apply in confidence for the remission of charges in part or in full. The Head Teacher in consultation with the Chair of Governors will make authorisation of remission.

The governing body must also have a remissions policy, setting out any circumstances in which they propose to remit (wholly or partly) any charge which would otherwise be payable to them in accordance with their Charging Policy.

(For example, a school may decide to provide an Italian language evening class as an optional extra. The governing body may decide to reduce the cost by 10% for those children whose parents are in receipt of certain benefits.)

The Data Protection of pupils and families.

Teachers will ensure that these children are not publicly identified and stigmatised. This is particularly important, as the fear of stigmatisation is often a key element in the non-take up of Free School Meals. This will be accomplished by developing methods of collecting voluntary charges or dinner money, which do not identify children who do not contribute.

Voluntary Contributions

Nothing in legislation prevents a school from asking for voluntary contributions to benefit the school or any school activities. If the activity cannot be funded without the benefit of voluntary contributions, the Governing Body or Headteacher should make this clear to parents at the outset. The Governing Body or Headteacher should also make it clear to parents that there is no obligation to make any contribution. It is also important to note that no child should be excluded from an activity simply because his parents are unwilling or unable to pay. If insufficient voluntary contributions are raised to fund a visit, then it must be cancelled.

Education

The school cannot charge for:

- Education provided during school hours (including the supply of any materials, books, instruments or other equipment);
- Education provided outside school hours if it is part of the National Curriculum, or part of a syllabus for a prescribed public examination that the pupil is being prepared for at the school, or part of religious education;
- Tuition for pupils learning to play musical instruments if the tuition is required as part of the National Curriculum, or part of a syllabus for a prescribed public examination that the pupil is being prepared for at the school, or part of religious education;
- Entry for a prescribed public examination, if the pupil has been prepared for it at the school;
- Examination re-sit(s) if the pupil is being prepared for the re-sit(s) at the school.

However, if a pupil fails, without good reason, to meet any examination requirement for a syllabus, the fee can be recovered from the pupil's parents.

The school can charge for:

- Any materials, books, instruments, or equipment, where the child's parent wishes him to own them;
- Optional Extras.
- Music Tuition, in limited circumstances.

Photocopying

Any photocopying that is requested by parents relating to their child, under the 'Freedom of Information Act', will be charged at 10p per sheet and 20p for any colour printing.

Education Partly During School Hours

Where an activity takes place partly during and partly outside school hours, there is a basis for determining whether it is deemed to take place either inside or outside school hours. However, a charge can only be made for the activity outside school hours if it is not part of the National Curriculum, not part of a syllabus for a prescribed public examination that the pupil is being prepared for at the school, and not part of religious education.

Non-residential activities

If 50% or more of the time spent on the activity occurs during school hours, it is deemed to take place during school hours. Time spent on travel counts in this calculation if the travel itself occurs during school hours. School hours do not include the break in the middle of the day.

Where less than 50% of the time spent on an activity falls during school hours, it is deemed to have taken place outside school hours. For example, an excursion might require pupils to leave school an hour before the school day ends, but the activity does not end until late in the evening.

Residential visits

If the number of school sessions taken up by the visit is equal to or greater than 50% of the number of half days spent on the trip, it is deemed to have taken place during school hours (even if some activities take place late in the evening). Whatever the starting and finishing times of the school day, regulations require that the school day is divided into 2 sessions. A 'half-day' means any period of 12 hours ending with noon or midnight. Using the above calculation, the trip would equate to nine half-day sessions, five of which are deemed to be in school hours, i.e. more than 50%.

Residential Visits

The school cannot charge for:

- Education provided on any visit that takes place during school hours;
- Education provided on any visit that takes place outside school hours if it is part of the National Curriculum, or part of a syllabus for a prescribed public examination that the pupil is being prepared for at the school, or part of religious education;
- Supply teachers to cover for those teachers who are absent from school accompanying pupils on a residential trip.

A charge can be made for board and lodging, but the charge must not exceed the actual cost.

When a school informs parents about a forthcoming visit, they should make it clear that parents who can prove they are in receipt of the following benefits will be exempt from paying the cost of board and lodging:

- Income Support; Income-based Jobseekers Allowance;
- Support under part VI of the Immigration and Asylum Act 1999;
- Child Tax Credit, provided that Working Tax Credit is not also received and the family's income (as assessed by the Inland Revenue) does not exceed £16,190.
- Guarantee element of State Pension Credit

If a parent is unwilling or unable to pay, their child must still be given an equal chance to go on the visit. Schools may consider making financial contributions in these cases from the money they hold from voluntary contributions. Schools should make it clear to parents at the outset and in their prospectus and in other relevant documents what their policy for allocating places on school trips will be along with their policy on voluntary contribution.

Optional Extras

Charges may be made for some activities that are known as optional extras. Where an optional extra is being provided, a charge can be made for providing materials, books, instruments, or equipment.

Optional extras are:

- Education PROVIDED that it is not:
 - a) Part of the National Curriculum;
 - b) Part of a syllabus for a prescribed public examination that the pupil is being prepared for at the school; or
 - c) Part of religious education.
- Examination entry fee(s), if the registered pupil has not been prepared for the examination(s) at the school;
- Transport that is not required to take the pupil to school, or to other premises where the local education authority/governing body have arranged for the pupil to be provided with education;
- Board and lodging for a pupil on a residential trip;
- Any materials, books, instruments, or equipment provided in connection with the optional extra.
- Non-teaching staff;
- Teaching staff engaged under contracts for services purely to provide an optional extra, this includes supply teachers engaged specifically to provide the optional extra;
- The cost, or a proportion of the costs, for teaching staff employed to provide tuition in playing a musical instrument, where the tuition is an optional extra.
- Visits to school by professionals e.g. Authors, storytellers, musicians, dancers, artists

The charge cannot exceed the actual cost of providing the optional extra or the board and lodging.

Participation in any optional extra activity will be on the basis of parental choice and a willingness to meet the charges. Parental agreement is therefore a necessary pre-requisite for the provision of an optional extra where charges will be made.

Music Tuition

Although the law states that all education provided during school hours must be free, music lessons are an exception to this rule. Charges may be made for tuition in playing a musical instrument, for either an individual pupil or groups of up to four, provided that the teaching is not an essential part of either the National Curriculum, or part of a public examination syllabus that the pupil is being prepared for at the school.

The costs, or a proportion of the costs, for providing teaching staff for tuition in playing a musical instrument outside school hours can be charged, if the tuition is not part of the National Curriculum, or part of a public examination syllabus that the pupil is being prepared for at the school. This is a permitted optional extra.

Transport

The school or LEA cannot charge for:

- Transporting registered pupils to or from the school premises, where the local education authority has a statutory obligation to provide transport;
- Transporting registered pupils to other premises where the governing body or local education authority has arranged for pupils to be educated;
- Transport that enables a pupil to meet an examination requirement when he has been prepared for that examination at the school;

- Transport provided in connection with an educational trip.

But can charge for:

- Any other transport. This is a permitted optional extra.

No charges can be made unless the governing body of the school has drawn up a charging policy, giving details of the optional extras or board and lodging that they intend to charge for.

After school Clubs and Extra-Curricular Activities

The school will charge for the Squirrel or Early Bird Club as it is separate business unless the Headteacher deems that a child can access the service for free for a specific reason.

Damage to School Property

The Governing Body reserves the right to make a charge for incidents detailed below:

- Damage to school property - the cost of replacing any item, such as a broken window or defaced, damaged or lost book, where this is a result of a pupil's behaviour.
- Damage to schoolbooks (Reading scheme)
- Lost School Equipment, Books etc
- Parents will be expected to replace or pay for the cost of lost items of School property.
- Breakages and Damage to School Buildings, Furniture or Property
- Parents will be charged for damage caused as a result of a pupil's behaviour.
