1. Identifying special educational needs and disabilities (SEND)

a. What kinds of special educational needs and disabilities does the school provide for?

At Braywood CE First School we have experience dealing with a range of special education needs and disabilities. These vary from children who need additional support in the classroom, to children who require an individual educational plan for a specific area of need. All children's educational and pastoral requirements are taken into account when the teacher plan their lessons; they are differentiated, and inclusive. Children with SEN and disabilities are treated as favourable as the rest of the class as outlined in our Equality and Disability Policy. Any barriers to learning are supported by very experienced staff.

b. How does the school know if children and young people have special educational needs and disabilities and need extra help?

We have a provision mapping process where children's educational needs and standards are carefully tracked over the year. We have a number of methods to help us identify if a child needs extra help.

These include:

- Information from your child's pre-school or previous school.
- The experience and expertise of our class teachers and support staff
- Whole school pupil progress meetings and advice from the SENCo.
- Information from other services who have worked with your child e.g., Physiotherapist, Educational Psychologist, Occupational Therapist, Speech and Language Therapist etc.

We use a series of tools to assess when a child needs additional support including phonics tracking, mathematics and reading assessments, spelling tests and tracking the children according to their age-related expectations. There are visual timetables in each classroom to support all children.

c. What should I do if I think my child or young person may have special educational needs or disabilities?

In the first instance talk to your child's class-teacher. Your concerns will always be taken seriously, as your views are very important to us. Teachers should be the first person a parent contacts as they take account of the needs of each child in their class. They need to understand any parental concerns to ensure all children can learn and make progress. If there are further steps to be taken the teacher will approach the SENCo/Headteacher and a meeting will be arranged to discuss the matter further with the family. Work in this area is very much a partnership between the child, their parents and the school.

2. Support the school provides for children and young people with SEND

a. What teaching strategies do you use to support children with special educational needs and disabilities?

The governing body is responsible for ensuring that SEND funding is used appropriately and for monitoring teaching and accessibility. There is a designated SEND Governor who works with the SENC/Headteacher.

We have a high pupil/adult ratio and children are supported by highly quality teaching and support staff. Lessons take account of individual needs and progress is reviewed regularly. Pupils have access to good quality first teaching, and this is maintained through our regular assessment and monitoring procedures. During the lessons, children with SEND will very rarely (if ever) be taken out of the classroom, but there will be a variety of interventions at other times in the day to support 'catch up and keep up' groups, individual programmes of learning or specific targeted groups. Children with SEND have an individual or a group educational plan to address their needs to ensure that work is differentiated and personalised.

Children with special educational needs have a progression folder 'learning journey' which highlights additional support requirements, appropriate targets and how progress will be reviewed. Where necessary an individual programme of support will be used, and the school may seek support from outside services. This will be discussed with parents and a referral made with your permission.

b. What additional support is available to help my child with their learning including specific interventions provided and adaptations to the curriculum and learning environment?

Currently we have teachers and teaching assistants who have had training in the following areas:

- Speech and Language (ELKLAN Trained)
- Dyslexia (Dyslexic trained course)

We have TA support staff who work on a one-to-one with children depending upon their needs. We can deliver specific individual plans including exercises or with a small group such as a team around the child. We may access support from other services, for example

- Educational Psychology Service
- Occupational Therapy
- Speech and language Therapist (SALT)
- School Nurse
- Autistic Spectrum Disorder Services (SHINE)
- Early Years Services
- Education Support
- Behavioural and attendance Service
- Child and Adolescent Mental health Service,
- Counselling Services
- Service for Children with Sensory Needs

c. How is the decision made about what type and how much support my child or young person will receive?

We make a decision regarding the needs of a child using a number of factors including general summative / formative assessments, teacher observations, parents' comments, professional guidelines and SENCo recommendations. Our provision mapping is updated regularly and children are highlighted if they start to fall behind. If this happens, we allocate either teaching assistants or specific interventions groups to support the child's needs.

d. How will I (the parent) be involved in planning for and supporting my child's or young person's learning?

Our curriculum is carefully planned to integrate the demands of the core curriculum with a vibrant, empowering and effective international programme of study. The basics are fundamental, and structures are in place to ensure that all children make strong and continual progress regardless of needs.

Ongoing tracking and assessment procedures enables each class teacher to analyse the progress of the child. Pupils work in a variety of groupings, such as small supported groups, 1:1, mixed ability and similar ability groups.

Parents are invited to three parent consultations; three class meetings and a variety of curriculum meetings to support parental understanding of the school educational process. If a child has a statement (or is on our SEND register), there are additional meetings to share the child's individual educational plan (IEP) such as how parents can contribute to the education for their child and how we can share target setting. There is plenty of opportunity to have regular feedback through our home school communication book 'Learning Log' or talking to the teacher on an informal basis.

e. How will my child be involved in their own learning and decisions made about their learning?

Together with an adult, children write help their own individual educational plans through a child-friendly programme to ensure that they are fully involved in the decisions about their learning. They attend the parents and teacher consultations to understand what their teacher feels are their key priorities and targets as well as hearing their key successes.

3. Children and young people's progress

a. How do you check and review my child or young person's progress?

All children's progress is constantly tracked through our electronic assessment system and evidence is uploaded onto this monitoring platform. Children with SEND are tracked even closer through provision mapping and their individual educational plans. These plans have individualised targets, which have been agreed by the child and his parents and are regularly monitored to ensure progress. We use SMART targets, which are easily measurable, and achievable and are communicated to families on a regular basis. This forms part of 'assess, plan, do, review' cycle of SEN provision. If a child has a statement or Education, Health and Care (EHC) Plan, this is formally reviewed every six months to a year.

b. How do you involve my child or young person and parents in those reviews?

Children attend their teacher/parent consultations and ultimately this contributes towards their Educational Health and Care Plan. Time is taken to involve the children in this process as often as possible e.g. their comments at the beginning of the plan. Review meetings are for the parents so any adjustments they wish to make would be encouraged and any support requested would be arranged.

Children who are looked after have a Personal Education Plan and this is reviewed in a similar way through regular targets and the Annual Review together with support from the LEA and the Virtual School.

c. How do you know if the provision for children and young people with SEND at your school is working?

Targets and interventions always have a short implementation time with SMART goals so we can ascertain whether the intervention is making an impact. Often there is a starting point and a measurable purpose to the additional provision. Programmes are modified if they are not being successful.

All staff are aware of these aims and the plans are part of their SEN learning journey. There are meetings to regularly discuss these targets including all adults involved in this child's care. These can include professional observations, diagnostic tests and visits from other partitioners.

4. Support for overall wellbeing

a. What support is available to promote my child or young person's emotional and social development?

We are a very inclusive school and have low incidents of bullying behaviour. We employ restorative behaviour techniques where children resolve their own issues. We have regular Personal Social and Health Education (PSHE/RSE) days, our Christian Ethos and Collective Worship and general support for a child's emotional and social wellbeing that gives children the tools to empower themselves inside and outside the classroom. We adhere to our Wellbeing and Happiness Policy.

Support we can provide for a young child's emotional and social development in school may include:

- Emotional Literacy Support Assistants (ELSA) and nurture groups,
- Social skills and friendship/buddy groups including lunchtimes or a key person
- Behaviour programmes including rewards and sanctions.
- Medicines can be administered in school with signed parental permission. (There are nominated first aiders in school and several members of staff have paediatric first aid qualifications.)

If your child has significant medical needs, you will need to speak to the Headteacher to discuss how we can best support you and your child. This might include drawing up a Health Care Plan.

5. Preparation for new and next steps

a. How will you help and prepare my child to join your school?

We encourage parents and children to visit the school and meet their new teacher prior to joining the school. A member of the Senior Management Team will either show the child and parents around school or be available to answer any questions. Where specific adaptations to school are required the Senior Management Team will liaise with parents/ carers and external agencies to ensure smooth transition into school. There are opportunities for children to visit the school and children with SEND will have a tailored transition programme suitable for their needs including photographs and a buddy support system. There is a close liaison with the child's previous school to ensure good practice is transferred to the new setting.

b. How will you prepare my child young people to join their next year group, school, college, stage of education or life?

The school has an established transition support system in place for the whole class, which includes visiting their next school with their peers, having a visit from a member of their next school and various open day events.

Children with SEND have additional support, this includes

- The school Emotional Literacy Support Assistant will offer small group sessions or 1:1 transition support, where it is deemed a child would benefit.
- Transition sessions for pupils moving to new classes or new schools have been led by the Play Therapist or Behaviour Support including a key person or a buddy system.

Additional, individual visits to transition schools are sometimes arranged and there is close collaboration between the staff team and our transition schools, including photographs etc.

Obviously, there are transition meetings where professionals can share the relevant information and paperwork to ensure that there is as smooth a transition as possible including Statement/EHC paperwork, Annual Review paperwork, progress levels, professional reports, Individual Education Plans, observation etc.

6. Accessibility and specialist equipment

a. How accessible is the school environment?

Do you have an accessibility plan?

Is your school wheelchair accessible?

Our school is partially wheelchair accessible e.g. with level access and some buildings/rooms accessible.

- Have adaptations been made to the auditory and visual environment? Our classrooms are calm spaces with neutral backgrounds so that they are not over stimulating.
- What changing & toilet facilities does the school have for children and young people with SEND? We have one disabled toilet and handrails in the main toilet block.
- Do you have disabled car parking for parents? We have one disabled parking space

b. What if my child needs specialist equipment or facilities?

We provide specific equipment required for a SEND child when the need arises. We do not have any specific rooms to support this, but adequate seating, ICT and visual aids have been provided in the past. Specialist equipment recommended by the physiotherapist or occupational therapist has been funded by the school

c. How will my child or young person be included in activities outside the classroom including physical activities, school clubs and school trips?

All children with SEND are included in all extracurricular activities. This is achieved through additional adult support, adapted environments and the needs of the child. Activities are discussed with parents and after reasonable adaptations then a suitable risk assessment is agreed. These same statements apply to our breakfast and our after-school club, although after school clubs are decided on an individual basis

7. Policies

a. Are you aware or familiar with the requirements of the Disability Discrimination Act 1995 (Special Educational Needs & Disabilities Act 2001) and the Equality Act 2010?

Yes

b. Where can I find other school policies relating to SEND?

The following SEND policies are available on the school website at the following link:

<http://braywood-ce.eschools.co.uk/website>

- Special Educational Needs Policy including G&T
- Health and Safety Policy
- Accessibility Plan
- Child Protection and Safeguarding Policy
- Behaviour for Learning Policy
- Equality & Diversity Policy
- Policy for Supporting Pupils with Medical Conditions
- Wellbeing & Happiness Policy and Christian Ethos Policy

These policies are updated annually alongside our Governors. All our policies are related to children with special educational needs.

8. Training for staff, specialist services and further support

a. With regard to staff who support children with SEND, what expertise do they have and what training have they undertaken?

We have a SENCO (who is the Headteacher) and Higher-Level Teaching Assistants (HLTAs) who are specialised in a specific area of SEND to support this role. Their specialism is Speech and Language, ELSA and Parent Support Assistant. All staff are paediatric first aid trained and .in the use of epi-pens etc. Everyone is training in using care plans for specific medical conditions and we have been successfully meeting these needs over a number of years.

b. What other agencies do you involve, to meet the needs of my child or young person and how can I access support from these agencies?

We involve professionals from Health, Social Services, Local Authority Support Services and voluntary organisations and other specialist support e.g. Speech & Language therapy, RBWM Children and Young People Disability Service, Educational Psychologists, Behaviour Support, Shine Team (Outreach Autism Service), Specialist Teachers e.g. From the School Support Service, Berkshire Sensory Consortium Service, We help our families to access these agencies by facilitating meetings or signposting. Please see the RBWM Local Offer which provides much more information in this area.

c. Who should I contact to find out about other support for parents, carers and families of children and young people with SEND?
